

Volk Field and GA Pilots

Lt Col Christopher Hansen will present information about the Volk Field Special Use Airspace, bombing range, and what some of the training is like that's conducted within that airspace. You'll also hear exciting news about new airframes that are currently scheduled to fly there this summer. Expect some history as to "Where we have been and where we may be going as far as training capability," to help us understand Volk's operations and increase our level of safety and awareness. MSgt Terry Fredrickson will touch on ATC services provided, including what's offered to general aviation pilots from the tower and approach control.

Directions: Use main entrance. Room 104A is directly to the right of main entrance.
